

The Song of Armageddon

Composed by Clinton D. French

It's the Lord at Armageddon and the battle's on today,
In the war of Armageddon, God Almighty leads the way:
We Progressives, in our dity, [sic] Tried to lead old parties right,
But they buckled up with bosses, till the Lord got in the fight.

CHORUS:

We are fighting, we are fighting for the cause;
We are fighting for our country and its laws.
Let the bosses stand aside, let the people turn the tied, [sic]
We are fighting for progression in our laws.

See the angels! See them pouring vials of wrath upon the crooks,
On the bosses and the grafters, with their little slates and books.
Watch their leaders squirming, tremble, see them knaw [sic] their tongues in pain,
For the Lord is in the battle, and he never fights in vain.

CHORUS

We cannot reform old parties with the devil in their deal,
Nor can we get the devil out till bosses 'gin to squeal.
So we'll not fear the elephant, nor the donkey born to kick,
The Lord will help the old Bull Moose win Teddy back his stick.

CHORUS

Yes, "Progressive" is the watch-word, and we battle for its cause,
Claiming those who "Dam [sic] the people" should not make the people's laws.
All we ask is honest dealing for the masses, ev'ry one,
And when the battle's over, hear the Lord say: "It is done."
